

Núria Solsona has a degree in Fine Arts from the University of Barcelona. Her artistic work is characterized by linear and detailed drawing, very close to engraving and photography, but also to the classic comic with line and ink. Her most represented themes are natural environments and landscapes, where she combines direct ink lines, texture and colour creating her own delicate style.

She has exhibited in different art galleries such as Palmadotze, Principal Sombrerers, Senda in Barcelona, or Casal Solleric in Palma (Mallorca). She has participated in exhibitions in Finland, Germany, Holland and New Delhi. She has been awarded a scholarship to publish the engraving project Notes on a Tree by the Miró Mallorca Foundation. She has participated in contemporary art fairs such as ARCO or ESTAMPA in Madrid, and in Artíssima in Torino.

Currently, Núria resides in Barcelona and works as an illustrator for different publishers and graphic studios in Spain.
